Scenes from Café Cumbre harvest

Compostela, Nayarit

Cafe Cumbre's strongest asset is its long term commitment to organic farming and its strict supervision over its trademark brand Hacienda Miravalles. This majestic farm is located in the western highlands of the Sierra Madre mountain range, producing 1500 bags of High Grown European Prep coffee. The farm supports an abundant variety of shade canopy which qualifies annually for the prestigious Bird-Friendly Certification by the Smithsonian Migratory Bird Center in Washington, DC.

The Flores family has ensured that coffees are carefully processed with the latest ecological and electronic technology available. What was once a single farm in the 1940's has flourished into a thriving coffee community. The Flores family is a recognized business and social leader. They provide full time workers with medical allowances and housing with water filtration systems. In addition, they have donated land and materials for the construction of a school, church, and community plaza.
